

February 15, 2018

Refugee Health Round-up

14th Annual Western Regional Global Health Conference

Change Makers: The Essential Role of women in Global Health. The conference will be held from April 20-22, 2018 at the University of Oregon. Deadline for abstracts submission is March 1, 2018...Read more »

Global Health Course

The University of Minnesota's Department of Medicine is offering its 13th annual Global Health course (in-person/online), which provides intensive training that is ideal for any physician or healthcare provider who serves a global mobile population, such as immigrants, refugees, or international travelers. The course is held from May 7 - June 1, 2018. Registration information: in-person registration page and online registration page.

Please send a request to Refugee Health Program if you want to receive the Weekly Round-up or to include events/news.

Medical and health risks associated with communicable diseases of Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh 2017

Using the Rohingya people in Bangladesh as a case context, this perspective paper synthesized evidence in published literature regarding what might be the key health risks associated with the five main health and survival supporting domains ...Read more »

NARHC 2018 Conference News

Here is the February edition of the 2018 NARHC Conference Newsletter.

Medical Interpreter Certification Prep Course

Refugee Connections Spokane is organizing a Medical Interpreter Certification Prep Course (11 weeks). The course will start March 3, 2018. The application deadline is February 22, 2018. For information and registration please e-mail interpreterprep@gmail.com